

ALERTS MANAGEMENT

As a company grows, more tools are required which means more alerts follow. Pretty soon the alerts coming from your system and tools sound like noise.

THE RESULT: IT teams have become desensitized to these alerts, so even if the system flags anomalous activity, it may get ignored due to burnout.

BEST PRACTICES FOR REDUCING ALERT STORMS WITH MARTELLO'S SOLUTIONS

Create a Summary Dashboard and create an alert widget to filter the alerts of top importance.

Create a Saved Search, where you can quickly see alerts from certain components and devices.

Set up Custom Dashboards for different members of the team so they only receive alerts that are actionable for their roles.

Consolidate and reduce redundant alerts.

Maximize the use of filters to make sure you're getting the most important information at all times.
